Dear, Mr. Q

Mr. Q how are you doing? Well since you've been coming to Bay Point I've really thought about god. See everyday that I'm home or in the street, I used god for bad not god. But since I've been in Bay Point you've told me why god is here for. The way you explain it you help me understand. That's why every monday I look forward to having you here giving out the word of god.

All the questions I've had about god, you've answered it a way where I could explain it to someone else. For every topic that you have, I sit and listen closely to what you have to say.

When someone comes around and use their time to give you the word of god, you should respect, and open your ears to what they have to say. And that's why I thank you, for all you've done.

Thank You, very much.

From, J. Virgill
